East coast flooding

Our biodiesel manufacturing facility at Immingham was affected by flood water on 6 December following the worse tidal flooding seen on the east coast of the UK for 60 years.

We would like to commend our staff for the way in which they handled this difficult situation. The facility was shut down safely in advance of the flooding, there was no loss of containment and no one was hurt.

There has been damage to electrical systems and at this point in time we cannot give a date for re-opening the facility.

We have been able to move esterified product out of the site and we do not expect an interruption in supply to our customers going forward.
